

EVEN BREAK YESTERDAY

Giants and "Champions" Took Game Apiece.

BURNS HAD A BAD INNING

Wiggs Pitched Fine Ball in First Game, but Was Knocked Out in First Inning of Second—Vickers Also Sent to the Stable.

The Giants and their friends from Burlington divided honors in a double-header at Inter-city Park yesterday afternoon, before 1,400 spectators. Loughlin's home run with three men on bases won the first game for Burlington, the final score being 6 to 3. The Giants retaliated in the second by knocking two pitchers out of the box and scoring eight times, to once by the visitors.

Wiggs pitched the first game for Burlington and got along so well that he thought he could repeat the performance in the second. An inning's experience taught him the folly of his conceit. Rubie Vickers lasted four innings, in which seven safe raps for eleven bases were registered by the insatiable Inter-city. McCrane finished the game, and the locals really didn't care whether or not they hit the ball. Burns pitched the first game for the locals and was touched up considerably. Combs officiated in the second and held the pennant-chasers in his grip.

Burlington's Victory.

Burlington laid away their victory in the second inning of the first game when they came down on Burns with a fusillade of hits. Ward was the one to show the way, with a single. Denninger was given a pass. Simon hit for a base, and Ward scored. Page singled, filling the bases. Wiggs hit to Burns, and Burns was out on home. There were still three men on bases when Loughlin came up and won the game with a home run over the right field fence. Matthews flew to Morey for the second time, and Stankard made a brilliant catch of Dowd's hit in short right.

There was a big up-hill battle ahead of the locals, but they started out in the third when Burns got hit with the ball. Dorman put him on third with a two-bagger. Morey fanned three times, and Grant rolled one down to Simon, who ripped Burns at the plate. Dorman going to third on the play, from whence he scored on a wild pitch. Combs struck out.

The Giants made a valiant bid in the eighth inning. Morey was out, short to first, and Grant cracked out a single. Combs fanned for the second time. Stankard, however, laid against the ball heavily, and the sphere flew over the fence, scoring two tallies. Eaton followed with a single and stole second. Shaughnessy waited for a base on balls and Ashmore closed the inning by way of Matthews. Both sides went out easily in the last inning. The score:

The Easy Game.

The second game was only seven innings long, as darkness came on so that playing was difficult. Wiggs, flushed with his 6 to 3 victory, went into the box again, hearing the jingling of Manager Whitney's coin in his pocket, and the plaudits for noble work in routing the enemy, etc. Dorman showed that the Giants were after the big fellow's scalp by rapping a long fly which Denninger gathered in. Morey sliced one over the infield and was safe. Wiggs began to weaken and passed Grant. Combs advanced them with a sacrifice, and Stankard brought Morey in with a clean single. Eaton then fell short of a home run by three feet, but got two bases, the ball striking the centerfield fence. Grant and Stankard scored on the hit. Shaughnessy sent out a long one which Loughlin pulled out of the clouds, ending the inning. Wiggs was promptly driven to the stable. Vickers, who succeeded him, managed to stem the tide for two innings, but in the fourth he began to get his bumps. Eaton opened up the heavy artillery on Vickers with a two-bagger. Shaughnessy sent him to third with a sacrifice to Matthews. With Eaton on third Ashmore did a most surprising thing for him—he hit for a home run over the center field fence. The next three men, Burns, Dorman and Morey, hit the ball to right field, and Denninger got the first and third, but missed the second. But Dorman died on second.

The locals gave Vickers no rest in the fifth. Grant struck the ball, and Page missed the third, the latter getting first. Combs beat out a hit and Stankard did the same. Simon had an idea that he could get Stankard and the ball went wild, Grant scoring and Combs landing on third. The latter came in soon when Page let a ball get by him, and Vickers was mad clear through to the back side. Eaton was retired on strikes and Shaughnessy put up a high one for Simon. But Ashmore was there again with a safe rap into right, this time for one base, and Stankard scored. Then Burns tried the other side of the field and found a safe place to drop the ball, sending Ashmore to second. Both runners stepped along a hitch on a very wild wild pitch. Dorman let up on Vickers when he fled to Dowd. But there are eight runs, and it didn't make much difference.

Burlington's only tally came in the third when, with one down, Combs fumbled Loughlin's bunt long enough for that worthy to get his base. Maty sacrificed, and Dowd singled, scoring Loughlin from second. Hazelton also singled, but Ashmore took care of Ward, closing the visitors' best and, in fact only, chance to win the game. BEEF, IRON AND WINE.

Beef, Iron and Wine is such an old remedy that we hardly need to mention what it is good for—everybody knows that—but few people realize that Beef, Iron and Wine is not all alike and that some mixtures called by that name are positively worthless as a medicine.

That which we make contains the proper amount of iron in its most easily assimilated form, strengthening beef extract of the best quality and the finest old imported wine. This preparation is reconstructive and a trial of one bottle will demonstrate its value.

NOTES OF THE DAY.

Rube started for home on foot after he got knocked out of the box. Bill Hazelton saved his team some errors by making remarkable stops of thrown balls.

It's hard for a pitcher to strike a man out, and then have the runner get first on a passed third strike. Grant did off Vickers.

Stankard's contribution to the batting of the day was three singles and a home run, giving him a batting average for the two games of .500.

Following like an auctioneer hawking off second-hand goods, Vickers got on the coaching line in the latter part of the first game and made a rich joke of himself.

Four runners tried to steal second on Eaton during the day, and three were nailed. The fourth got there by the skin of his teeth, Dorman pulling down a high throw.

Ashmore does not try to hit for a home run, gripping his bat half way to the end, so that his home run drive over the fence was a surprise. But he struck the ball on the nose. Ashy's batting average for the second game was .666.

Shaughnessy towered above little Page in a rage when Page caught his bat, and it looked like a scrap, at least on the big fellow's part. But Capt. Dorman sandwiched his little self between and with the assistance of the umpire got Shaughnessy down to first without a drop of blood being spilled.

Matthew's color turned a dirty white when he slid to first in an endeavor to beat out a hit. The colored man's face dug several inches into the dirt, and the mixture of black and white was funny to see when he got up. And then Maty's smile beamed through the shades like the sun breaking through the clouds.

"Your first baseman is your weakest man," said a Burlington fan. Just then Ashmore pulled in a difficult liner which, if it had slipped by him, would have meant runs for the visitors. Ashmore had 24 put outs during the afternoon, and his work was as fine as has been seen here this year. He is one of the best workers on the team.

TOOK BOTH GAMES.

Rutland Found Plattsburg An Easy Proposition Yesterday.

Rutland, Aug. 22.—Rutland took both games of the double-header with Plattsburg yesterday afternoon, the first by the score of 7 to 2 and the second by the score of 6 to 3. Ferry pitched both games for the home team, and did fine work, while Donovan was in the box for the visitors the first game and Barberick the second.

COLLECTIONS FALL OFF.

Not So Much in Duties at the Burlington Custom House.

Burlington, Aug. 22.—The officials at the Burlington custom house have completed the tabulations of the figures representing the amount of the imports, the duties thereon, and the exports for the district of Vermont for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1905. The amount of duties collected on all merchandise imported through the district was $652,855.03. This was lower than the preceding fiscal year when the duties amounted to $746,722.76.

The value of the exports through the district of Vermont for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1905, was $11,883,028. The value of the exports for the preceding fiscal year was $11,222,367.

RETURN AS INDIVIDUALS.

Burlington Plumbers' Strike Has Been Declared Off.

Burlington, Aug. 22.—The plumbers' strike in this city which began on May 1 was officially ended on August 15. It lasted therefore three and a half months.

In taking the men back, the employers require the personal and individual application of those who want employment and the question of employment and terms are settled with each man as an individual. BREAKS JAIL AT NEWPORT.

Fred Wattman Takes Advantage of His Keeper's Carelessness.

Newport, Aug. 22.—Fred Wattman, who has been confined in Orleans county jail here charged with breaking into C. L. Moore's store in Morgan recently, escaped from jail Sunday. The turkey was collecting the prisoners' dishes after dinner and left the door unlocked while he placed some dishes on a table. While his back was turned Wattman went out the door, ran down Main street, past the Congregational church to School street, and thence to the railroad yard where he was lost sight of, though he was closely followed. The police is making every effort to locate the man.

ARRESTED IN ST. ALBANS.

James Burns and Gus Denner Are Being Held.

St. Albans, August 22.—James Burns, a Scotchman, and Gus Denner, a German, who arrived in this city on the train due here at 10:45 o'clock Sunday evening, were arrested by Immigrant Inspector Charles S. Forbes and lodged in the Franklin county jail charged with being in this country in violation of the immigration laws. They will be held at the jail pending the decision of the immigration authorities at Montreal.

WONDERFUL CURE OF SORE HANDS

By Cuticura After the Most Awful Suffering Ever Experienced

EIGHT DOCTORS

And Many Remedies Failed to do a Cent's Worth of Good

"I was troubled with sore hands, so sore that when I would put them in water the pain would nearly set me crazy, the skin would peel off and the flesh would get hard and break. There would be blood flowing from at least fifty places on each hand. Words could never tell the suffering I endured for three years. I tried everything, but could get no relief. I tried at least eight different doctors, but none did me any good, as my hands were as bad when I got through doctoring as when I began. I also tried many remedies, but none of them ever did me one cent's worth of good. I was discouraged and heart-sore. I would feel so bad mornings, to think I had to go to work and stand the pain for ten hours, I often felt like giving up my position. Before I started to work I would have to wrap every finger up separately, so as to try and keep them soft, and then wear gloves over the rags to keep the grease from getting on my work. At night I would have to wear gloves; in fact, I had to wear gloves all the time. But thanks to Cuticura, that is all over now.

CURED FOR 50c.

"After doctoring for three years, and spending much money, a 50c. box of Cuticura Ointment ended all my sufferings. It's been two years since I used any, and I don't know what sore hands are now, and never lost a day's work while using Cuticura Ointment."

HELPLESS FOR 12 YEARS, CHILD GETS UP AND WALKS

Father of Ethel Vandersloot Can Only Ascribe Cure to Prayers of Friends.

York, Pa., Aug. 22.—Ethel Vandersloot, only daughter of Edward F. Vandersloot, said to her father Sunday: "Papa, I want to get up and walk." The child had not walked in 12 years, during which time she has been an invalid. Following the remark, she straightened up, rose to her feet and walked. In the progress from the bed to the top of the stairs she fell twice, but for the greater part of the way to the dining room of her father's house she made her way alone and unaided.

Physicians had pronounced her case hopeless. Mr. Vandersloot said he knew of no other reason to ascribe the result other than the prayers of the child's friends.

HED' LIKE TO TRY.

Jim Johnson made a lucky strike about a year or two ago.

He was a man I used to like before his head expanded so.

It's sizes larger than his hat, and now he holds it pretty high.

I don't think I would act like that, but then I've had no chance to try.

Tom Smithers' wealthy uncle died.

And Tommy got the whole estate. That fellow wasn't satisfied.

To spend it at a decent rate. He threw the dollars left and right—

He burned 'em. I don't think that I would be a spendthrift, though I might, I never had a chance to try.

A dozen men that I have known have gone entirely to the bad.

By getting rich, and I have grown to think that wealth is something sad.

And yet, I'm sure my sterling sense influences would defy, I'd use it with intelligence.

I'd like to have a chance to try.

Great Pitching by Tannehill of the Champions

IN YESTERDAY'S SHUT OUT

In Second Game of Double Header Detroit Turned About and Knocked Ball All Over the Field, Scoring a Shut Out.

Detroit, August 22.—The Champs and the Tigers took a game each yesterday afternoon, Boston winning the first, 3 to 0, and Detroit the second, 5 to 0. Both teams played errorless ball in the first game, and the visitors won out by bunting their six hits off Kilian. Tannehill would let the home team have but four safe raps in the same game.

Boston scored three runs in the fourth inning. Parent singled, Burckett hit to right center for two bases, scoring Parent. Collins placed the ball in left for two bases, and Burckett scored. Stahl singled to center, and the captain added another tally. A double play of Stahl and Freeman and Ferris strike out ended the inning and the scoring for the remainder of the game.

Tannehill's remarkable pitching prevented a Tiger from reaching second base during the entire nine innings, and only eight men reached first base. Only 31 men faced the Boston man in the nine innings.

In the second game everything went the way of the home team, they getting 12 safe drives off Dineen, and the visitors making two errors.
